

PRINTABLE PROFITS

The 20-Listing Launch Checklist

From niche idea to 20 live listings, checkbox by checkbox.

Print it. Check boxes. Launch the shop.

Work the phases in order. Phases 1-4 happen with your shop still unpublished or in draft -- nobody sees the messy middle. Launch week is simply the moment all 20 listings go live, already finished. If a box doesn't make sense yet, the matching course lesson covers it; don't skip the box, learn the step.

Phase 1 -- Niche Validation (Before You Build)

- ☐ Pick ONE buyer, not one product: write down exactly who buys this and the moment they need it (bride, teacher, party host, new parent).
- ☐ Run your top 3 product phrases through eRank or Marmalead: confirm real monthly searches before designing anything.
- ☐ Study 5 best-selling competitor listings: note prices, page counts, file types, sizes offered, and photo style.
- ☐ Read 20 competitor reviews and list the 3 complaints buyers repeat. Your product fixes all three.
- ☐ Confirm the searches-to-listings gap: healthy search volume with few polished listings is your green light.
- ☐ Trademark-check your idea: no brand names, characters, sports teams, song lyrics, or copyrighted phrases anywhere in it.
- ☐ Price-scan the niche: record the lowest, median, and highest prices for products like yours.

Phase 2 -- Build in Canva (Products 1-20)

- ☐ Set up one Canva folder per product, with subfolders for source files, exports, and listing photos.
- ☐ Build one master design first, then create variations (size, color, wording) from it -- never from a blank page.
- ☐ Design at final print size (US Letter 8.5 x 11 in for most printables) and export as PDF Print for crisp output.
- ☐ Use only fonts and design elements you are licensed to sell. Save a license note in each product folder.
- ☐ For editable templates, create the Canva template link so buyers receive their own copy -- never your master file.
- ☐ Export every product in its final buyer format, exactly as it will be delivered after a sale.
- ☐ Proof one full page of every product: margins, spelling, alignment, and page order all checked.

Phase 3 -- Listing Copy & SEO (All 20 Listings)

- ☐ Write each title the way buyers search: main keyword phrase first, then the benefit, then the occasion or audience.
- ☐ Fill all 13 tags on every listing with multi-word phrases from your research -- no single words, no tag that repeats another.
- ☐ Write descriptions that state what is included, the sizes, how the buyer edits or prints, and what is NOT included.
- ☐ Add an FAQ block to every listing: file type, sizes, Canva free vs. Pro, and basic printing help.
- ☐ Set categories, attributes, and materials honestly (digital file, instant download) so no buyer is surprised.
- ☐ Create 5-10 listing images per product: styled mockup, what's-included shot, size chart, how-it-works, and a detail close-up.
- ☐ Plan your shop sections by product type or occasion so 20 listings still feel like one tidy shop.

Phase 4 -- Shop Setup

- ☐ Choose a shop name, banner, and logo that say what you sell within 3 seconds.
- ☐ Write your About section: who you design for and the problem your products solve for them.
- ☐ Set shop policies: how digital delivery works, that nothing physical ships, and your refund terms for digital files.
- ☐ Connect and verify payment and tax information so your first payout is never held up.
- ☐ Leave Etsy Ads off for launch week -- your first data should be clean, organic signal.
- ☐ Keep all 20 listings in DRAFT until every box above is checked. Drafts are your quality gate.

Phase 5 -- Launch Week (All 20 Go Live)

- ☐ Publish in small daily batches (4-5 per day) so you can proof each listing the moment it goes live.
- ☐ Click through every live listing like a buyer: price right, files download, template links open a fresh copy.
- ☐ Feature your 3 strongest listings at the top of your shop.
- ☐ Share the launch where your buyer already gathers (Pinterest, niche groups) -- link the shop, skip the hype.

- ☐ Answer every message within a few hours this week. Fast, kind replies are your first reviews in the making.
- ☐ Start a simple stats sheet: one row per listing for views, favorites, and orders, updated daily this week.

Phase 6 -- Post-Launch Review (Days 7-30)

- ☐ Day 7: sort listings by views. Zero-view listings get fresh titles and tags before anything else changes.
- ☐ Day 7: sort by favorites vs. views. Many favorites and no sales means a price or photo problem -- fix ONE variable.
- ☐ Reply to every review personally, and fix any file issue a reviewer mentions the same day.
- ☐ Day 14: publish 2-3 variations of your best performer instead of renewing slow listings.
- ☐ Day 30: rebuild or retire your bottom 3 listings; turn your top 3 into bundles.
- ☐ Day 30: re-run your real payout numbers through the Etsy Fee & Pricing Worksheet and adjust prices to match reality.

The two sacred rules of launch: no niche switching before all 20 listings are live, and no verdicts before day 30. A printable shop is a catalog business -- judge the catalog, not a Tuesday.